Granny Handymen

and the organization's founders, Valen Cianci and Richard Lorah, for their service to the elderly and disabled citizens of Chester County.

In early May 2014, two United States Marines and former Operation Iraqi Freedom veterans established Granny Handymen, a non-profit organization that encourages the independence of Chester County senior citizens and the disabled, by providing basic handyman services at no cost. Val Cianci and Rich Lorah have made it their mission to help minimize potential risks that come with maintenance and home repair for properties where the elderly and disabled reside, and in just six months they have served more than 150 Chester County residents.

The Board of Commissioners, County of Chester, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, commends and thanks Val Cianci and Rich Lorah for their efforts to provide security, independence and dignity for senior citizens and the disabled, through their charitable efforts to fulfill small home improvements and property maintenance tasks.
